

ST EGWIN'S C.E.
MIDDLE SCHOOL

Morning update Tuesday 2nd June 2020

Well...We're open again! That happened very easily. Such a nice smooth start to the day. No strained expressions. Calmness abounds.

It's a beautiful sunny day and we should be grateful for that. We have acres and acres to spread out in. The school has life back in it. Rooms with children in them as I walk down our corridors. Beautifully painted corridors thanks to Mr. Harrell's hard work in the last ten weeks.

As I type, I'm awaiting the techie go-ahead to deliver my first live, remote assembly. The delay has superficially stoked-up expectations of how good this assembly is going to be. I may have to sing and dance!

I've been around the school and popped my head in to all the rooms. The children look happy. Cheeky smiles. Funny stories to relate - one learned to drive just recently! Amazing tans and couple of Mohicans.

The staff are their usual relaxed, happy and calm selves. In their element. We will see how the activities we are delivering today and tomorrow go. You'll know from their reactions when they get home.

As a parent myself, seeing the faces of the children would reassure me that I made the right decision to send them back.
